DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9, and 11-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over FR 2739658 (Broust) in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA). Broust teaches a gas turbine compressor having a stump portion, with the axis of rotation the stump portion extending from the back face and a metal stub shaft by friction welding in an end to end relationship, which is concentric with the stump portion (figure 2, item 16); having a billet of substantially the same diameter of the stump (figure 2, item 16); where the stump has a height measured from the back fame and where the height is selected to optimize the mechanical work done on the body while minimizing extrusion in the region (figure 2, item 16); where the height and diameter are the same (figure 2, item 16); and heat treating and deflashing (page 3). AAPA teach forging, heat treating, and removing the weld flashing the gas turbine compressor part and the desirability of using IM 1834; and then machining the radially extending blades in the blank (paragraphs 1-7) in addition to joining an impeller to a stub (figure 2). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the process of Broust to utilize the manufacturing treatment steps in order to maintain good mechanical properties at high temperatures and to utilize the claimed alloy in order to have high fatigue strengths (see AAPA paragraphs 2 and 6).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments that it would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art because the shafts are subject to different constraints is merely conjecture without any basis in fact. Applicant is reminded that the arguments of counsel cannot take the place of evidence in the record. In re Schulze, 346 F.2d 600, 602, 145 USPQ 716, 718 (CCPA 1965). Applicant is invited to submit an affidavit or declaration showing the shafts are subject to different constraints.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
